MOHICAN CO. SHOWS HOW FOOD PRICES HAVE DROPPED A striking exhibit of the heavy blow that has been struck at Old H. C. L. during the past year is shown in the window of the Mobican Company on Main street. The exhibit shows 25 articles which are in every day use in the average American home—sugar, coffee, tea, four bread, vegetables, eggs, butter and cheese, smoked meats and other staple commodities. The quantities range from a jar of jam to two pecks of potatoes, 100 pounds of sugar and one-eighth barries of four.

The long and short of this exhibit is that in Norwich today $24.37 will buy as much of the 25 articles as $51.59 would a year ago. This means that the huying power of a dollar today is a little over twice what it was a year ago.
